Stegeman Coliseum

Georgia volleyball will play every 2021 home match in Stegeman Coliseum. The volleyball team opened the newly-renovated arena on October 11, 2017, with a match against Tennessee. The most recent renovation, completed in September 2017, was highlighted by a center-hung video board along with other improvements, including new seats, an LED lighting system, and an all-new sound system.

Christened in 1964 as the Georgia Coliseum, the venue was officially renamed and dedicated to the memory of Herman James Stegeman on Saturday, March 2, 1996. Stegeman made many contributions to Georgia's athletic program during his 20-year tenure (1919-39). He was a pioneer in the development of college basketball in the south, originating the region's first big basketball tournament when he organized the Southern Conference Tournament in Atlanta from 1921-32. Stegeman Hall on the UGA campus was named for Coach Stegeman in 1946 and, for years, it was home of the University's athletic and physical education departments. The athletic department moved its offices to the new coliseum in 1964, and Stegeman Hall was demolished in 1995 following completion of the Ramsey Student Center for Physical Activities.

The Coliseum is actually two separate structures, the roof and the building beneath it. The only connection is an aluminum bellows which seals the joints and permits the rise and fall of the roof with temperature change.

Stegeman has undergone thorough renovations in the last few years, receiving a 21st Century face lift. When fans arrived during the 2017 season, they walked in to the final product following more than $20 million in renovations over the past several years.

That summer, the arena received a massive center-hung video board, new black seats, an improved LED lighting system, a state-of-the-art sound system, and graphics above the horseshoe end celebrating past teams and retired jerseys. That followed work in the summer of 2016 which provided a dramatic mural covering the Coliseum's distinctive end wall.

In 2010, Stegeman's concourses received a similar makeover, upgrading the graphics, enhancing spectator access to concessions and restrooms and adding 5,000 square feet of concourse space on each side of the arena. Those efforts won awards from both the American Institute of Architects and the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America.

Stegeman Coliseum was utilized for rhythmic gymnastics and preliminary volleyball competition during the Centennial Olympic Games in 1996.

Ramsey Student Center

Georgia's $40 million Bernard B. and Eugenia A. Ramsey Student Physical Activities Center is where the Georgia Bulldogs volleyball team is housed. One of the nation's largest on-campus facilities for recreation and fitness, the Ramsey Center features a three-court volleyball arena and amenities, all utilized by the Bulldogs for practices. The Ramsey Center encompasses 440,000 square feet - UGA's Sanford Stadium could fit inside the center's more than five-acre footprint - and the variety offered is as vast as the area covered. Four gymnasiums, three swimming pools, seven group fitness studios, climbing and bouldering walls, an indoor challenge course, 10 racquetball courts, two international squash courts, two strength and conditioning rooms, four cardiovascular overlooks, a one-eighth-mile indoor track, equipment checkout and Pro Shop, an outdoor equipment rental, and resource center are all available under one roof.

The first volleyball match played in the Ramsey Center was on September 22, 1995. Prior to playing in the Ramsey Center, the Bulldogs' home volleyball matches were held in the Women's Physical Education Building. With a seating capacity of 1,925, the Ramsey Center Volleyball Arena produces a lively environment featuring the Redcoat Pep Band, UGA cheerleaders, and Georgia mascot Spike!

During the summer of 2009, new additions were added to the volleyball area of the Ramsey Center with the program's coaches moving into new offices along with the addition of a theatre-style team video and scouting room, a new athletic training room, a new visitor's locker room and a players' lounge that features a sitting area, a wi-fi bar and a nutrition station.

Named the best recreational facility in the country by Sports Illustrated in 1997, the Ramsey Center is a constant reminder of the University of Georgia's commitment to athletic excellence and the realization of what is required to achieve greatness.

The team video room, located in the coaches office suite, is an ideal location to break down film and hold team meetings.

Murals and wall graphics throughout the facility highlight the history of Georgia volleyball including All-Americans and All-SEC performers.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

"Something for everyone." That's one way to describe the academic, athletic, and social experience at the University of Georgia. UGA is a leader among public universities nationally with a breadth and diversity of degree programs that rival any institution of higher learning. Various degree programs such as education, business, international affairs, journalism, math, and public administration rank among the best in the nation. With its top-notch facilities campus-wide, the University of Georgia is an ideal setting for anyone to pursue a world-class education.

The University of Georgia is the birthplace of public higher education in the USA. On January 27, 1785--just two years after the Revolutionary War and still four years before George Washington's inauguration as our first President--the Georgia Legislature adopted the charter that created the University of Georgia, making UGA the oldest chartered state university in the nation. More than 225 years later, Georgia still offers something for everyone.

THE CITY OF ATHENS

Universally known as one of the nation's premier college towns, Athens is the perfect marriage of campus and community. Broad Street is all that separates the University of Georgia's historic North Campus and a vibrant downtown community filled with restaurants and shopping. Athens has carved its own identity with the individualistic pursuits of a music scene that has turned local artists into worldwide superstars.

Athens' ever-thriving music scene fostered world-wide megabands such as R.E.M. and the B-52s. Historic venues such as the Georgia Theatre and the 40-Watt Club make Athens a must-stop for a wide variety of emerging and established stars from Taylor Swift to Snoop Dogg.

Olympians Made Here

The University of Georgia has a strong tradition of producing world-class student-athletes who go on to compete on the world's biggest stage. Georgia volleyball has featured three student-athletes competing in Olympic volleyball action in its history.

Elizabeth Reid (2010-11) became Georgia's first Olympian to compete in volleyball when she represented her home nation of Great Britain when London hosted the Games in 2012. Alexandra Oquendo (2002-05) played for Puerto Rico in indoor and Britta Burthe (2007) played for Germany on the beach in 2016 in the Rio Games.

Before he became head coach of Georgia volleyball, Tom Black was an assistant coach for the USA Women's National Team in Rio. Team USA went on to win the Bronze medal in 2016.

Former Georgia head coach Jim Iams (1989-99) was an assistant coach from 1985-88 for the U.S. Women's Olympic team and an advisor for the 1992 Barcelona and 1996 Atlanta Games.

Long before the program competed full time in Stegeman Coliseum, the venue was used for preliminary men's and women's volleyball action during the 1996 Atlanta Games. Stegeman also played host to rhythmic gymnastics. Today, spectators coming to Stegeman Coliseum can see the monument dedicated to the University's Olympic athletes outside of the building, which was erected in preparation for the games. The University of Georgia also utilized Sanford Stadium in 1996, hosting soccer matches. History was made in Athens when the U.S. women's soccer team won the gold medal for the first time.

2021 Season Outlook

The 2021 Georgia volleyball season is the fifth under the direction of head coach Tom Black. The Bulldogs' roster features 17 student-athletes with a mix of experienced and new talent. Overall, each position on the court comes with a significant amount of depth.

The roster breaks down to five seniors, three juniors and sophomores each, and a total of six freshman, five of which are true freshmen. Position wise, the Bulldogs have a near perfect mix at each position.

Georgia returns five starters plus its starting libero from last season. Offensively, returning starters include juniors Kacie Evans and Amber Stivrins on the outside. Senior Sage Naves and SEC All-Freshman Team member Phoebe Awoleye will provide solid offense and plus-blocking in the middle again in 2021. The right side will see production from seniors Mallory Hernandez and Kayla Rivera along with junior Meghan Froemming.

On the outside, Evans and Stivrins combined for 45 percent of Georgia's offensive efforts, each registering over 200 kills in the condensed season a year ago. Additionally, Naves and Awoleye combined to contribute almost 200 kills. Hernandez, Rivera, and Froemming will provide excellent scoring opportunities on the right side as the three bring upperclassmen experience to the opposite pin. Hernandez finished fourth on the team in kills as a junior a season ago. The offense will be bolstered on the outside by freshmen Lyric Stewart and Abby Maesch.

Senior Dalaney Hans was one of two who ran Georgia's 6-2 offense last season, handing out 4.77 assists per set. Freshman Clara Brower, who early enrolled in January but was ineligible to compete in the spring, will look to see significant playing time running the Bulldogs' offense this season. Redshirt-sophomore Alexa Fortin could also see time on the court this season handing out sets.

Defensively, the Bulldogs saw improved production out of the blockers last season. Georgia concluded the season ranked fourth in the SEC in the category, completing the campaign with 2.25 blocks per set. It was the highest finish in the category under Black. Awoleye finished top-five in the league with 1.05 blocks per set as a rookie. Mackenzie Norris could see time in the middle after redshirting a season ago. Freshman Kaitlin Fornier also hopes to see the floor this season to provide backup in the middle for Georgia.

On the back line, senior Claire Rothenberger donned the libero jersey much of last year. She concluded the season just shy of 3.00 digs per set. Rothenberger will be backed up by sophomore defensive specialist Mallory Downing who appeared in 43 sets in the spring. Freshman Bailey Cox is expected to see good playing time this season and will provide good depth on the back line for the Bulldogs.

Georgia will look to garner an NCAA Tournament berth for the second time under Tom Black. The Bulldogs last appeared in postseason in 2019. It was the program's 10th all-time NCAA Tournament appearance.

2021 SCHEDULE

The 29-match schedule begins Friday, August 27 in Athens. Georgia will play 12 matches at Stegeman Coliseum in 2021, nine against SEC opponents. Eight opponents on Georgia's schedule appeared in the 2020 NCAA Women's Volleyball Tournament, three of which played in the Elite Eight round.

Georgia will host Morehead State, Winthrop, and preseason-ranked No. 22 Pepperdine in a tournament at Stegeman Coliseum on opening weekend August 27 and 28. Tournament action continues Labor Day weekend in Lincoln, Nebraska with the Ameritas Players Challenge. Georgia will take on Arizona State and host No. 5 Nebraska Sept. 3 and Omaha Sept. 4. It's on to Orlando for three matches against Florida State, Florida Gulf Coast, and UCF Sept. 9-11. Non-conference concludes with single matches at NC State (Sept. 16) and at No. 24 Georgia Tech (Sept. 18).

The regular season Conference schedule consists of 18 matches in which each member institution will play each other at least once. The order of opponents for each team are determined by a random computer draw. Two-match series may be played Wednesday/Thursday, Thursday/Friday, Friday/Saturday or Saturday/Sunday.

SEC play opens on the road Wednesday, Sept. 22 at South Carolina. The conference home opener is set for Wednesday, Sept. 29 against No. 6 Florida.

TOM Black

HEAD VOLLEYBALL COACH

17TH SEASON OVERALL (307-165)

FIFTH SEASON AT GEORGIA (65-50)

Head women's volleyball coach Tom Black is in his fifth season at the helm of the Georgia volleyball program in 2021. Black was named the seventh head coach in the history of Georgia volleyball on December 22, 2016.

The 2020-21 season featured a conference-only slate of 22 matches. The Bulldogs split the fall portion of the season, going 4-4. A milestone victory came on November 21 in Gainesville, Florida when the Bulldogs defeated then-No. 5 Florida in four sets. Not only was it the first win against Florida since 2008, it was the first win in Gainesville since 1986, and the first win over a top-10 opponent since the same win against Florida in 2008 when the Gators were ranked No. 8. It became the program's highest-ever ranked win and first over a top-5 opponent.

Georgia concluded the 2020-21 campaign 8-14. Black and the Bulldogs finished the season on a high note winning three of their last four matches of the season including taking two against Ole Miss in the final home series. Phoebe Awolaye was tabbed All-Freshman Team by the SEC. Awolaye finished fifth in the league with 1.05 blocks per set. She became the third All-Freshman Team pick of Black's tenure at Georgia. As a team, the Bulldogs' blocking game saw its best performance under Black's guidance in 2020-21, finishing the season with 2.25 blocks per set, ranking fourth in the SEC.

Black guided the Bulldogs to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in 2019 since Georgia's most previous trip in 2013. Georgia concluded the season with a 20-10 overall record and a 12-6 clip in SEC play. It was the second time Georgia eclipsed the 20-win mark under Black. The last time the Bulldogs had a pair of 20-win seasons in three years was 1995 and 1997.

Led by 2019 SEC Freshman of the Year Kacie Evans, the Bulldogs finished third in the league in kills per set (13.83) and hit .232 as a team. All-SEC setter Meghan Donovan dished out 1,271 assists. Donovan, along with Kendall Glover, became the newest members of Georgia's 1,000-Dig Club in 2019. Junior Rachel Ritchie notched her 1,000th kill in 2019, becoming the 18th member of Georgia's 1,000-Kill Club. The season was highlighted by a road victory over No. 12 Kentucky.
